SANTA ARRIVES BY HELICOPTER

OFFICIAL "SANTA CLAUS" of the Victory Loan campaign put away his sleigh and reindeer and came to New York via helicopter to inaugurate a special sale of Victory Bonds. While the ultra-modern Coast Guard craft hovers twenty feet above the water, Santa slides down a rope onto a "duck" in the Hudson River. ### Christmas Gift Buying Starts Early This Year

By United Press
There are only 22 more shopping days until Christmas, but the buying public doesn't seem to be told.

Ready to splurge wartime earnings on their first peacetime Christmas in four years, shoppers began jamming the nation's stores two weeks ago.

One merchant described it as "a regular frenzy — they're buying anything they can lay their hands on."

The day after Thanksgiving marked the official opening of the shopping season. But on Chicago's State street the Christmas decorations, including a mammoth chimney and a fireplace large enough to accommodate a street car in the hearth, went up Nov. 10.

A Madison, Wis., department store head said customers started laying away Christmas gifts last August. Christmas merchandise began to move in Omaha about the middle of October. And an Indianapolis merchant said "It's been Christmas here all year."

Most cities reported that the dollar volume of sales was five to 20 per cent higher than last year. "The volume of business is almost unbelievable," a Denver store manager said. He predicted a shortage in all stocks "long before Christmas."

A United Press survey indicated that supplies of most gift items are larger than last year. The chief shortages are in household goods, sports equipment and certain types of clothing.

At one Chicago department store women bought aluminum pots and pans straight from the hand trucks before saleswomen could get them onto the shelves.

Nazis Had Poison Gas

MASS OUTPUT ORDERED YEAR BEFORE THE WAR

Goering Charged With Giving Order In July Of 1938, Trial Evidence Shows

HITLER WOULD NOT STOP
Record Of Speech Shows Some Leaders Wanted To Ask Peace

NUERNBERG, Nov. 27—Germany began manufacture of poison gas on a mass basis more than a year before the outbreak of war, evidence at the war crimes trial revealed today.

Orders to start turning out poison gas on a massive scale were issued by Hermann Goering on July 12, 1938, the evidence disclosed.

Production was to be started at a rate of 4,000 tons a month and to rise to a rate of 8,000 tons a month by Oct. 1, 1940.

The evidence was in the form of a memorandum on basic facts about the German war effort written by Gen. George Thomas, former chief of the Nazi military economy staff.

Adolf Hitler refused demands by many influential Germans to negotiate peace with the United States, Russia and Britain late in 1943, earlier evidence at the trials disclosed.

Germany at the start of the fifth year of war was engulfed by a wave of defeatism, rumors and appeals to make peace "while there is still something to negotiate."

These facts were shown in a speech made by Col. General Alfred Jodl to Munich gauleiters on Nov. 7, 1943, and read into the record by American Prosecutor Sidney Alderman.

At that time the Germans had been driven from North Africa and Sicily and were losing ground in Italy. They also had suffered heavily on the Russian front.

Jodl exhorted the gauleiters to ferret out traitors and develop the will to resist. He told them that the necessity for war had been clear to everyone when Germany entered hostilities. It wasn't till the situation had become acute, he said, that the German people began to ask whether they had not undertaken too much.

DIET FOR VOTES
FOR JAP WOMEN

TOKYO, Nov. 27—Emperor Hirohito, opening the extraordinary session of the Japanese diet, today urged passage of a law giving votes to women and other legislation to make Japan more democratic.

For one minute the emperor, surrounded by American and Allied officers, stood blinking in the floodlit chamber and read an imperial rescript. He wore his new style blue court uniform with a single flower in his lapel. The government legislative program, designed to carry out Gen. Douglas MacArthur's orders for a more democratic government, includes a bill to triple the number of Japanese permitted to vote. For the first time, under this bill, Japanese women would be permitted to go to the polls. The woman suffrage bill, assured of passage, will be a great step in the emancipation of Japanese women from their socially inferior position.

Also on the government's program was a labor union law, the first in Japanese history. The proposed bill will follow MacArthur's directive demanding that the government give rights to labor. Under existing 1938 legislation strikes are banned.

Divers Search Cold Lake For School Bus, Bodies Of 14 Drowned Children

BY HARRY L. CARLSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

FIRST CREEK, Wash., Nov. 27—A little group of parents huddled in common misery on the shores of beautiful Lake Chelan today as divers resumed searching for a school bus which carried 15 children and its driver to death in the deep, cold waters.

The tragedy, which occurred yesterday during a snowstorm when the vehicle struck a boulder on the cliff-top country road and plunged into the lake, left four of the families childless.

Two children were lost in each of six families. Only five children were left alive in the entire, sprawling Twenty-Five-Mile Creek rural area.

Awaiting in grim silence the recovery of their children's bodies, a sharper grief assailed the bereaved couples. Authorities said that the ill-fated bus and its lifeless load might have sunk so deep into the almost bottomless lake that it might never be found.

Four divers from Seattle and Grand Coulee dam were forced last night to abandon their search until today because temperatures dropped into the low 20's, while high winds and lack of sufficient emergency lighting hampered their work.

Boatmen and divers recovered one body, however. It was that of 15-year-old Henry Davis.

Ronnie Ayers, 13, drowned as he struggled toward shore in the frigid water. The other 14 victims, including Jack Randall, 26, the bus driver, were believed still trapped in the bus.

There were seven survivors. Washington state highway police said. Had the schoolbound bus completed its circuit, it would have been carrying up to 50. Loss of (Continued on Page Two)

U. S. FORCES TO LEAVE IRAN BY DECEMBER 1

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—The United States, leading a move to clear Iran of foreign troops, already has ordered American forces and installations evacuated from the troubled near eastern country by the end of December.

Orders for the evacuation went out shortly after the state department, in notes to Moscow and London, proposed a three-power agreement for removal of all American, British and Russian forces from Iran by Jan. 1.

Iranian officials have charged that the presence of foreign troops was responsible for the unrest in their country.

The United States also expects to evacuate American troops from Czechoslovakia by the end of this week. Dispatches from Prague confirmed that Russian military evacuation was generally keeping pace with the American withdrawal but may require more time because Red army forces are more scattered.

Atom Bombs Were Free Falling, Not Attached To Parachutes, Experts Say

BY CHARLES B. DEGGS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—The atomic bombs that blasted Hiroshima and Nagasaki were free-falling and not attached to parachutes, it was learned today.

This information, confirmed by Army atomic bomb experts, reversed a contrary impression created by Japanese claims that the Hiroshima bomb was seen floating above the city from a parachute just before the blast.

Actually, it was revealed, the Japs did see a parachute but it was not carrying the bomb. Instead, it was bearing sensitive instruments which recorded and radio-broadcast exactly what was going on inside the bomb. The crew of the bomb-dropping B-29 was thereby kept advised until the split second of the explosion.

This correspondent was led to raise the question of the bomb's launching because of two facts previously made public: (1) that the B-29 swung around and almost completely reversed its course after dropping the bomb and (2) that the plane was almost 11 miles away when the detonation came.

A free falling bomb follows the forward course of the launching plane and also its approximate speed. Thus, when the plane turns around, the gap between plane and bomb is widened by both the plane's speed and that of the falling weapon. A parachute on a bomb, however, would greatly arrest its forward and downward speed, and the "safety" gap would be smaller.

"Doesn't that mean that to put 11 miles between the exploding bomb and the launching plane, the B-29 had to depend upon both its own speed on its nearly reversed course plus the forward speed of a free-falling bomb?" this correspondent asked.

The Army experts grinned. Jap knows no parachute was used and there's no reason why the American people shouldn't know it," one high official said. "How could an airplane crew hit a target point by using a parachute? It couldn't. That bomb had to be dropped free and it was."

JAPS MUST BUY IMPORTED FOOD

2,500 Tons Of U. S. Wheat Already Obtained; Pay Demanded For All

TOKYO, Nov. 27—The Japanese already have obtained 2,500 tons of surplus American Army wheat to help avert starvation this winter, and they will be allowed to import other foods, coal, oil, cotton and salt in 1946—if they can foot the bills.

In line with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's announced policies, the Japanese are being given some help in combating famine, but the bulk of the job has been thrown squarely on their own shoulders.

Whatever help they get in the way of food from abroad in the coming winter months, and for the rest of next year at least, will depend upon the food situation in other parts of the world, the amount of shipping available, and their own ability to pay for what they get.

MacArthur's spokesmen said the bulk of the gold, silver, platinum and jewels confiscated from the Japanese government will be used to pay for purchases abroad, if there is anything left after payment of the American occupation costs.

The principal imports planned at present are expected to come from the Asiatic mainland, but quantities still are undetermined and probably will not be known until the international food and shipping situations have been clarified.

The 2,500 tons of American wheat imported thus far were surplus supplies originally intended for the U. S. Army in the Philippines, and later diverted to Japan when the size of the American forces in the islands was reduced. (Continued on Page Two)

McNARNEY SAYS ALLIES TO STAY FOR 10 YEARS

FRANKFURT, Nov. 27—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, newly designated commander of American forces in Europe, predicted today that the Allied occupation of Germany would continue for at least 10 years.

McNarney held his first press conference since he was named to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as commander-in-chief of U. S. occupation forces in Germany, commanding general of U. S. forces in Europe, and American representative on the Allied control council.

The strict denazification program in the American occupation zone will continue, McNarney announced. This automatically squelched hopes of thousands of Germans for mitigation of their onus and punishments on the ground of being merely "nominal" members of the Nazi party.

At midnight the 10,000 British troops which had swooped on the Sharon valley returned to their bases, easing dangers of an immediate clash. The curfew on movement between villages was lifted.

Nevertheless, passions touched off by the raid were near the flash point. Tension could only be compared with that which existed just before the battle of El Alamein, when the Jews feared that the German army would sweep across Egypt to Palestine.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—The American Veterans Committee, second biggest exclusively World War II veterans organization, demanded today that the government tighten ceilings and help build at least a half million low rent homes to help eliminate the housing shortage.

Otherwise, said National Chairman Charles G. Bolte, the nation will experience a deficit of two million dwelling units in the next two years, and most of the victims will be servicemen.

Outlining AVC's housing proposals at a press conference, Bolte said the situation may demand a housing czar. "It has the makings of a national scandal," he warned. He said industry has shown little initiative.

The 25-year-old Dartmouth graduate, minus a leg since El Alamein, also let it be known: That AVC, with 10,000 members, has quit waiting for servicemen to seek it out and has put organizers in the field. Membership is climbing by close to 200 a day. "Committee" is now a misnomer. That he is not presiding over a left-wing or intellectual outfit. However, AVC's "statement of intentions" might be called liberal. That AVC favors extension of UNO, looking to eventual creation of a world government. It is unlikely an isolationist would want to join.

Ambassador Says Fleet In Pearl Harbor Discouraged Jap Movements

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—U. S. failure to oppose Japanese aggression in the critical days before Pearl Harbor would have been cowardly, Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull declared today in a vigorous defense of his policies.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—The Pearl Harbor investigating committee today asked Joseph C. Grew, former ambassador to Tokyo, whether he was consulted on the decision to base the fleet at Pearl Harbor in the period before the Japanese attack.

Grew told the committee yesterday he felt the fleet's presence in Hawaiian waters exercised a restraining influence on the Japanese.

He couldn't say, without consulting records overnight, whether he was consulted on the decision to keep it there.

Grew was scheduled to resume his testimony after a third one-hour appearance by former secretary of state Cordell Hull.

PREMIER Ferruccio Parri of Italy (above), who was forced to resign when Liberal, Labor-Democrat and Christian Democrat ministers had quit his coalition cabinet, warned his successors that any attempt to swing left or right of his pivotal coalition would "inevitably lead to civil war." ### JEWISH STRIKE CALLED TODAY

Action Follows Battle Of Sharon Valley In Which Nine Jews Died

JERUSALEM, Nov. 27—A 30-minute Jewish strike was called throughout Palestine for 1:30 p. m. today while villagers of the Sharon valley mournfully buried the nine men killed in yesterday's raid by 10,000 British airborne troops.

The Jewish council ordered the demonstration in an atmosphere of extreme tension which threatened to break into open fighting.

"The battle has begun," one Jewish leader shouted at a mass meeting last night.

At least 92 persons were wounded in the mass raid by British infantry, supported by armor and fighter planes, on six villages north of Tel Aviv in search of Jewish extremists who attacked two British coast guard stations. Eighty Jews and 12 policemen were wounded.

At midnight the 10,000 British troops which had swooped on the Sharon valley returned to their bases, easing dangers of an immediate clash. The curfew on movement between villages was lifted.

Nevertheless, passions touched off by the raid were near the flash point. Tension could only be compared with that which existed just before the battle of El Alamein, when the Jews feared that the German army would sweep across Egypt to Palestine.

STEEL WORKERS BALLOT

NLRB Ready To Conduct Its Greatest Strike Vote In History

By United Press

The CIO United Auto Workers prepared for a long, bitter picket line seige against General Motors, and Ford Motor company workers faced lay-offs by night fall in today's darkening labor picture.

An ever-widening gap separated General Motors and the union last night to reopen talks over demands for a 30-per cent wage increase, which last week prompted 175,000 UAW workers to leave their jobs.

As the strike neared the end of its first week, there was every indication of a long drawn-out battle unless the government could bring the disputants together on the controversial wage issue.

Closure of Ford's giant River Rouge plant outside Detroit and the contemplated shutdown of a number of subsidiary plants tonight was expected to add some 40,000 to the 517,000 already idled by strikes across the nation.

Ford officials emphasized that the layoffs were necessitated by a shortage of parts resulting from strikes in 15 supplier plants and in no way connected with the General Motors strike.

M. L. Bricker, Ford vice-president, said 40,000 workers would be out for the remainder of the week, and possibly longer, because of long-standing strikes in plants of Borg-Warner gear division, Muncie, Ind.; American Forge company, Chicago; Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, Pittsburgh; Libbey-Owens-Ford company, Toledo, O., and the Auto Specialties Mfg. company, St. Joseph, Mich.

In refusing to reopen discussions of the union's wage demands, General Motors last night accused the UAW of using "force and threats of force" to bar supervisors and clerical employees from most of the 93 strikebound G-M plants.

Corporation officials said more than 50,000 non-striking office employees had been forced into idleness as a result of the strike.

The auto company said it would resume negotiations only if the (Continued on Page Two)

FERGUSON HOLDS UP EXPENSE PAY FOR COMMISSION

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27—State auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today questioned the appointment of Gov. Frank J. Lausche's three designated members of the state pension program commission and said he would not pay vouchers for any of the commission's expenses.

"It does not appear that all the appointments were legally made," Ferguson said. "I am not going to pay any expenditure vouchers until it is definitely demonstrated that all members of the commission have been legally appointed."

The law creating the commission, which also includes three state senators and three representatives, provided that not more than two of three appointees of the governor shall be affiliated with the same political party.

The three men appointed by the governor are: John D. Currie, Akron city finance director; Nelson D. Talbott, Dayton, and Ray A. Clarke, Columbus attorney.

STARS AND FANS BUYING PROPERTY OF VALENTINO

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 27—Movie stars and movie fans crowded into the American art galleries today to bid on the personal treasures of the late Rudolph Valentino, the silent screen's greatest lover.

Most of the articles were going dirt cheap. Auctioneer Ben Seewack said. He estimated that Juan Romero, multi-millionaire Brazilian coffee planter who owns the Valentino estate, would collect only $40,000 on property worth $150,000.

Valentino's $5,000 hand-carved dining room set, for instance, was auctioned off when bidding began last night to a lady fan who didn't let sentiment for "The Sheik" blind her into paying more than $850.

The actor's $10,000 custom-built piano went to a dealer for $3,750. A reverent Valentino fan lugged off the prize of the evening. This was a boot trunk initialed "R. V. G."—Valentino's legal name was Guglielmi—and bearing his screen name and Hollywood address beneath the top flap.

By CHARLES B. DEGGER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—The atomic bombs that blasted Hiroshima and Nagasaki were free-falling and were not attached to parachutes, it was learned today.

This information, confirmed by Army atomic bomb experts, reversed a contrary impression created by Japanese claims that the Hiroshima bomb was seen floating above the city from a parachute just before the blast.

Actually, it was revealed, the Japs did see a parachute but it was not carrying the bomb. Instead, it was bearing sensitive instruments which recorded and radio-broadcast exactly what was going on inside the bomb. The crew of the bomb-dropping B-29 was thereby kept advised until the split second of the explosion.

This correspondent was led to raise the question of the bomb's launching because of two facts previously made public: (1) that the B-29 swung around and almost completely reversed its course after dropping the bomb and (2) that the plane was almost 11 miles

JAPS MUST BUY IMPORTED FOOD

2,500 Tons Of U. S. Wheat Already Obtained; Pay Demanded For All

TOKYO, Nov. 27—The Japanese already have obtained 2,500 tons of surplus American Army wheat to help avert starvation this winter, and they will be allowed to import other foods, coal, oil, cotton and salt in 1946—if they can foot the bills.

In line with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's announced policies, the Japanese are being given some help in combating famine, but the bulk of the job has been thrown squarely on their own shoulders.

Whatever help they get in the way of food from abroad in the coming winter months, and for the rest of next year at least, will depend upon the food situation in other parts of the world, the amount of shipping available, and their own ability to pay for what they get.

MacArthur's spokesmen said the bulk of the gold, silver, platinum and jewels confiscated from the Japanese government will be used to pay for purchases abroad, if there is anything left after payment of the American occupation costs.

The principal imports planned at present are expected to come from the Asiatic mainland, but quantities still are undetermined and probably will not be known until the international food and shipping situations have been clarified.

The 2,500 tons of American wheat imported thus far were surplus supplies originally intended for the U. S. Army in the Philippines, and later diverted to Japan when the size of the American forces in the islands was reduced. (Continued on Page Two)

SUBSTITUTE DECORATIONS SOUGHT; HOLLY IS SCARCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—You'll have to deck the halls with boughs of something else this Christmas. The agriculture department said today there will be practically no holly. Most of the 1945 crop was destroyed by spring frosts.

A free falling bomb follows the forward course of the launching plane and also its approximate speed. Thus, when the plane turns around, the gap between plane and bomb is widened by both the plane's speed and that of the falling weapon. A parachute on a bomb, however, would greatly arrest its forward and downward speed, and the "safety" gap would be smaller.

"Doesn't that mean that to put 11 miles between the exploding bomb and the launching plane, the B-29 had to depend upon both its own speed on its nearly reversed course plus the forward speed of a free-falling bomb?" this correspondent asked.

The Army experts grinned. "Well, every intelligent Jap knows no parachute was used and there's no reason why the American people shouldn't know it," one high officer said. "How could an airplane crew hit a target point by using a parachute? It couldn't. That bomb had to be dropped free and it was."

Had the bomb been attached to a parachute—even in perfectly still air—the B-29 could have put just about half the distance between itself and the explosion. "And five-and-a-half or six miles wouldn't have been healthy," an officer agreed. Even at 11 miles, the crew members felt the blast.

Ambassador Says Fleet In Pearl Harbor Discouraged Jap Movements

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—U. S. failure to oppose Japanese aggression in the critical days before Pearl Harbor would have been cowardly, Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull declared today in a vigorous defense of his policies.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—The Pearl Harbor investigating committee today asked Joseph C. Grew, former ambassador to Tokyo, whether he was consulted on the decision to base the fleet at Pearl Harbor in the period before the Japanese attack.

Grew told the committee yesterday he felt the fleet's presence in Hawaiian waters exercised a restraining influence on the Japanese.

He couldn't say, without consulting records overnight, whether he was consulted on the decision to keep it there.

Grew was scheduled to resume his testimony after a third one-hour appearance by former secretary of state Cordell Hull.

McNARNEY SAYS ALLIES TO STAY FOR 10 YEARS

FRANKFURT, Nov. 27—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, newly designated commander of American forces in Europe, predicted today that the Allied occupation of Germany would continue for at least 10 years.

McNarney held his first press conference since he was named to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as commander-in-chief of U. S. occupation forces in Germany, commanding general of U. S. forces in Europe, and American representative on the Allied control council.

The strict denazification program in the American occupation zone will continue, McNarney announced. This automatically squelched hopes of thousands of Germans for mitigation of their onus and punishments on the ground of being merely "nominal" members of the Nazi party.

Warns of Civil War

PREMIER Ferruccio Parri of Italy (above), who was forced to resign when Liberal, Labor-Democrat and Christian Democrat ministers had quit his coalition cabinet, warned his successors that any attempt to swing left or right of his pivotal coalition would "inevitably lead to civil war." City-wide demonstrations in Rome followed the Premier's resignation. (International)

JEWISH STRIKE CALLED TODAY

Action Follows Battle Of Sharon Valley In Which Nine Jews Died

JERUSALEM, Nov. 27—A 30-minute Jewish strike was called throughout Palestine for 1:30 p. m. today while villagers of the Sharon valley mournfully buried the nine men killed in yesterday's raid by 10,000 British airborne troops.

The Jewish council ordered the demonstration in an atmosphere of extreme tension which threatened to break into open fighting.

"The battle has begun," one Jewish leader shouted at a mass meeting last night.

At least 92 persons were wounded in the mass raid by British infantry, supported by armor and fighter planes, on six villages north of Tel Aviv in search of Jewish extremists who attacked two British coast guard stations. Eighty Jews and 12 policemen were wounded.

At midnight the 10,000 British troops which had swooped on the Sharon valley returned to their bases, easing dangers of an immediate clash. The curfew on movement between villages was lifted.

Nevertheless, passions touched off by the raid were near the flash point. Tension could only be compared with that which existed just before the battle of El Alamein, when the Jews feared that the German army would sweep across Egypt to Palestine.

Mass meetings in Haifa last night condemned the British raid (Continued on Page Two)

AVC DEMANDS GOVERNMENT AID HOME BUILDING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—The American Veterans Committee, second biggest exclusively World War II veterans organization, demanded today that the government tighten ceilings and help build at least a half million low rent homes to help eliminate the housing shortage.

Otherwise, said National Chairman Charles G. Bolte, the nation will experience a deficit of two million dwelling units in the next two years, and most of the victims will be servicemen.

Outlining AVC's housing proposals at a press conference, Bolte said the situation may demand a housing czar. "It has the makings of a national scandal," he warned. He said industry has shown little initiative.

The 25-year-old Dartmouth graduate, minus a leg since El Alamein, also let it be known:

That AVC, with 10,000 members, has quit waiting for servicemen to seek it out and has put organizers in the field. Membership is climbing by close to 200 a day. "Committee" is now a misnomer.

That he is not presiding over a left-wing or intellectual outfit. However, AVC's "statement of intentions" might be called liberal.

That AVC favors extension of UNO, looking to eventual creation of a world government. It is unlikely an isolationist would want to join.

STEEL WORKERS BALLOT

NLRB Ready To Conduct Its Greatest Strike Vote In History

By United Press
The CIO United Auto Workers prepared for a long, bitter picket line seige against General Motors, and Ford Motor company workers faced lay-offs by night fall in today's darkening labor picture.

An ever-widening gap separated General Motors and the union last night to reopen talks over demands for a 30-per cent wage increase, which last week prompted 175,000 UAW workers to leave their jobs.

As the strike neared the end of its first week, there was every indication of a long drawn-out battle unless the government could bring the disputants together on the controversial wage issue.

Closure of Ford's giant River Rouge plant outside Detroit and the contemplated shutdown of a number of subsidiary plants tonight was expected to add some 40,000 to the 517,000 already idled by strikes across the nation.

Ford officials emphasized that the layoffs were necessitated by a shortage of parts resulting from strikes in 15 supplier plants and in no way connected with the General Motors strike.

M. L. Bricker, Ford vice-president, said 40,000 workers would be out for the remainder of the week, and possibly longer, because of long-standing strikes in plants of Borg-Warner gear division, Muncie, Ind.; American Forge company, Chicago; Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, Pittsburgh; Libbey-Owens-Ford company, Toledo, O., and the Auto Specialties Mfg. company, St. Joseph, Mo.

In refusing to reopen discussions of the union's wage demands, General Motors last night accused the UAW of using "force and threats of force" to bar supervisors and clerical employees from most of the 93 strikebound G-M plants.

Corporation officials said more than 50,000 non-striking office employees had been forced into idleness as a result of the strike.

The auto company said it would resume negotiations only if the (Continued on Page Two)

FERGUSON HOLDS UP EXPENSE PAY FOR COMMISSION

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27—State auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today questioned the appointment of Gov. Frank J. Lausche's three designated members of the state pension program commission and said he would not pay vouchers for any of the commission's expenses.

"It does not appear that all the appointments were legally made," Ferguson said. "I am not going to pay any expenditure vouchers until it is definitely demonstrated that all members of the commission have been legally appointed."

The law creating the commission, which also includes three state senators and three representatives, provided that not more than two of three appointees of the governor shall be affiliated with the same political party.

The three men appointed by the governor are: John D. Currie, Akron city finance director; Nelson D. Talbott, Dayton, and Ray A. Clarke, Columbus attorney.

union would modify its demand and limit discussions to wages without reference to profits and selling prices.

A weeklong "demonstration" walkout against Montgomery Ward & Co. went into its second day, with union and mail order officials in sharp disagreement over its effectiveness.

The company said 92 per cent of its workers were on the job yesterday and that business was nearly normal. The union termed the strike 80 to 100 per cent effective.

The strike demonstration at Ward plants in 11 cities was scheduled to last through Saturday. Union leaders warned, however, that periodic work stoppages might be called to protest the company's refusal to arbitrate a contract covering wages, hours and working conditions.

Meanwhile, 650,000 CIO United Steelworkers will ballot tomorrow on whether they wish to strike for a $2-a-day pay boost. The national labor relations board has set up polling places in 766 plants in 27 states for the greatest strike vote in its history.

In Chicago, 16 gravediggers returned to their jobs at St. Casimir's Lithuanian Roman Catholic cemetery, ending a 16-day walkout. Twenty burials had been held up during the contract dispute.

RACHEL PICKEL RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS DUTY

Lt. Rachel Pickel, ANC, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pickel of East Mound street, is home on furlough after returning from overseas service in France.

The unit, with which Lt. Pickel served, the 39th Evacuation Hospital, arrived in England on February 9, 1944, and landed in France at Utah beach, July 18 and was attached to the First Army. On the morning of July 20, while located at St. Mere Eglise, the first patient was received.

In the course of the war, the 39th traveled through France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany. German heavy artillery hit the mess hall of the hospital on one occasion, near Morhange, France, wounding a supply sergeant.

As a member of the unit, Lt. Pickel, won the right to share in the honor bestowed upon it for meritorious service, a coveted distinguished unit citation. She is a graduate of nurse's school at Lancaster hospital.

COLUMBUS MAN CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR POST

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27—William K. Mackey, of Columbus, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the unexpired term as U. S. senator from Ohio.

The law says that Sen. James W. Huffman's temporary appointment in succession to Harold H. Burton, now a Supreme Court justice, expires Dec. 15, 1946. The regularly elected senator does not begin his term until Jan. 4, 1947, leaving a 20-day period for which a temporary senator must be elected.

Mackey was formerly Columbus relocation officer for the U. S. War Relocation Authority. A Methodist minister, he once held the post of chief probation officer for the state department of welfare.

life was lowered because many parents were driving their children to schools through the snowstorm.

The victims were students in the high school, junior high school and grade schools of nearby Chelan, Wash.

Heroine of the accident was Mrs. Glenna Brown, 37-year-old farm wife, who boarded the bus to keep a dentist appointment in Chelan. She saved several of the children by pushing them through broken windows as the bus rolled over in the lake and sank after floating momentarily.

"I can still hear the helpless cries and screaming of those children," Mrs. Brown said as she lay prostrate from her experience.

Donnie Mack, 13, said that he "nearly fainted" when the bus catapulted down the 15-foot cliff into the water.

"But the cold water brought me to and I headed for the first broken window," he said. "I got out before the water started coming in fast, but when I saw my pal, Ronnie, drown, I wished I was back in there. He can't swim you know and he headed out into the lake instead of into shore."

Divers, operating from a lake barge floated over the spot where the big bus disappeared, thought once that they had located the sunken vehicle at the 65-foot level. But paint and broken glass on a ledge at the 144-foot level led them to believe the bus had dropped even deeper.

The steep sides of the lonely, rock-lined lake are slippery and unfathomable. There is a drop of at least 1,400 feet into the water beyond the ledge where the bus fell out of sight. At some places in the 55-mile-long lake its depth never has been plumbed.

FIERCE BATTLES RAGE AGAIN IN CENTRAL JAVA

BATAVIA, Nov. 27—Fierce fighting was reported continuing today in central Java where British forces have opened both air and sea attacks on Indonesian extremists.

Hard-pressed Indian troops were reported battling new attacks around Ambarawa where extremists have been besieging 8,000 to 10,000 civilians in an internment camp.

British planes strafed Indonesian positions yesterday and dropped food to the internees.

The Netherlands news agency reported that other RAF planes bombed an Indonesian stronghold in Semarang, 20 miles north, while the British heavy cruiser Sussex shelled the villages of Demok and Uncaran west and south of the port.

The Indonesian national convention in Batavia passed a resolution yesterday blaming the British for the events in Java because "they are trying to make a second Manchuria of Java on behalf of the Dutch."

CHARGES ARE DROPPED IN 'STOLEN' AIRPLANE CASE

The "stolen" airplane case which had Sheriff Charles Radcliff wondering what in the world would happen next Monday has been settled peacefully between the parties concerned.

The plane was found at Snook Field, near Reynoldsburg, where it was being held pending payment of a repair bill, the sheriff's office said.

HOUSE GROUP SLASHES FUNDS FOR BUREAUS

NLRB Prohibited From Using Funds To Conduct Strike Voting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—A congressional committee has voted to end the right of labor unions to hold strike elections under the Smith-Connally act.

The action was taken by the house appropriations committee in recommending a $1,131,552.312 deficiency appropriation for federal agencies during the fiscal year ending next June 30—a slash of $576,142.136 from the original budget bureau request.

The committee attached to the appropriation legislation a rider prohibiting the National Labor Relations board from using any of its funds to conduct the strike elections authorized by the Smith-Connally act. The rider, offered by Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, R. Ill., reportedly had the unanimous approval of a deficiency subcommittee.

The full committee noted that the Smith-Connally act was a war measure and said the regular work of the NLRB was suffering because of the huge number of strike elections it had been asked to conduct.

"The war is over insofar as the employment of labor in war production is concerned, and the committee therefore can find no justification for the NLRB being called upon to expend public funds or being held up in its regular work on account of this outdated activity," the report said.

Legislation for outright repeal of the Smith-Connally act has been approved by the house rules committee and is now awaiting house action.

In voting the $576,142.136 slash in the administration's $1,707,694.448 deficiency appropriation requests, the committee called for a "close watch upon execution agencies to check extravaganzas."

"A spending psychology has grown up in government which must be dissipated," the report said. "As secretary of the Navy Forrestal recently tersely expressed it, we must 'recapture economy.'"

The committee rejected the entire budget bureau requests of $158,320,000 for expansion of veterans' hospital facilities, $128,475,000 for flood control and rivers and harbors projects, and $24,500,000 for temporary veterans' housing.

All of these requests should have further study, the committee reported. To take care of the hospital situation it inserted a provision authorizing the veterans' administration to take over Army and Navy hospitals not needed by those services.

In knocking out the flood control and rivers and harbors projects previously recommended by army engineers, the committee said they would be recommended when the regular appropriation bill is brought up in January.

"They may be thoroughly justified, but the committee is reluctant to recommend them without further inquiry into the merits of features not essential to protection against floods," the report said.

The committee also slashed from $99,387,000 to $77,206,100 the amount recommended by the budget bureau for reclamation projects under the interior department.

It recommended without change 11 projects where funds are made available through reclamation revenue, but authorized funds for only seven of 16 proposed projects from general funds.

The committee's largest cut came when it lopped off $191,000,000 for administration of surplus property disposal. It made no appropriation for this purpose, recommending that it be met through the surplus property administration's receipts.

The committee also cut from $50,000,000 to $12,500,000 a budget bureau recommendation for advance planning of public works under the federal works agency. It reported that the $12,500,000 would permit the agency to continue this work at its present rate.

iff's department on a warrant signed by the child's father, next door neighbor of Shaffer. The alleged attack was said to have happened after Shaffer brought his children and the Conrad child home from a show in his truck.

Prosecutor Kenneth Robbins said Shaffer first denied he had gone after the children, then later said, "They might have been with me, I don't know."

At the preliminary hearing the prosecutor asked Shaffer if the child hurt herself on one of the operating levers of the truck, as Shaffer's relatives had stated.

"I don't know," Shaffer said.

Shaffer stated, "I've never laid my hands on that baby. I got babies of my own. I'm too old for a thing like that. I plead not guilty of tetching that kid."

Mr. Robbins instructed the sheriff's department, "This man is being held for investigation. Nobody is to see him, except his lawyer."

Shaffer asked if he couldn't see his family and the prosecutor said that he could if a law official were present.

HUMMEL WANTS SERVICEMEN TO GET TO VOTE

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27—Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel today had urged a change in election laws to insure discharged veterans the right to vote in next year's primary and general elections.

The action was recommended by Hummel in a letter to Gov. Frank J. Lausche which requested the governor to include the election law revision in his call for a special session of the legislature expected shortly after the beginning of 1946.

Governor Lausche said today that he would give the matter "due consideration."

"We ought to make it possible for all returning soldiers to vote," Lausche said. "I do not believe a special session should be called for that purpose alone, but if a special session is called due consideration should be given that problem."

Hummel said the present law bars civilians from registering less than 28 days in advance of an election and it would be impossible for a veteran to vote if he were discharged within a period of 28 days before the elections.

The secretary of state told the governor that the state of New York remedied a similar situation by enacting legislation permitting a discharged soldier to register at any time up until noon of an election day.

New York State consumes about one-third of the anthracite produced in Pennsylvania.

In addition, an undisclosed amount of military petroleum stores was turned over to the Japanese to get their transportation and fishing fleets back into operation.

The cost of these items has been debited against Japan by the U. S. treasury and will be paid for later in Japanese exports.

In return, Japan has been directed to ship 70,000 tons of coal to the American held southern half of Korea, since there has been no indication that the Russians are permitting transfer of coal from their occupation zone.

The Japanese also will ship 3,000 tons of pitch to Korea for railroad use and a substantial number of silkworm eggs to help re-establish the silk industry there.

Australia also has asked for 7,000 bales of Japanese silk for 1946 delivery, and China and Hong Kong have entered orders for coal and timber.

Col. R. C. Kramer, chief of MacArthur's economic and scientific section, said he believed Japan already had enough food on hand to keep her entire population alive for the next 12 months. But he said that the nation's distribution system was so badly disrupted that starvation in some areas was a distinct possibility this winter.

to Feb. 1, 1941, testified last week the fleet was based at Pearl Harbor on orders of the late President Roosevelt as a restraining influence on Japanese aggression. Richardson said he opposed the order because the fleet couldn't properly be prepared for action at that base.

Grew was asked, as a diplomat who spent 10 years in Tokyo prior to the attack, whether he believed basing the fleet at Pearl Harbor had the effect Mr. Roosevelt desired.

"There is no question but that it kept them (the Japanese) in some doubt," he replied. "They couldn't have known that they would achieve success that they did. It made them realize that it was a gamble."

The testimony shows that after the Jap minister raised a question about the U. S. fleet, Grew replied that it still was in American waters at Pearl Harbor and was "no threat to Japan."

Grew vigorously defended the 10-point proposal which Hull handed Japan Nov. 26 instead of the proposed modus vivendi.

LONG BATTLE BETWEEN UNION, G-M EXPECTED

Government Intervention Is Seen As Only Hope To End Disagreement

union would modify its demand and limit discussions to wages without reference to profits and selling prices.

A weeklong "demonstration" walkout against Montgomery Ward & Co. went into its second day, with union and mail order officials in sharp disagreement over its effectiveness.

The company said 92 per cent of its workers were on the job yesterday and that business was nearly normal. The union termed the strike 80 to 100 per cent effective.

The strike demonstration at Ward plants in 11 cities was scheduled to last through Saturday. Union leaders warned, however, that periodic work stoppages might be called to protest the company's refusal to arbitrate a contract covering wages, hours and working conditions.

Meanwhile, 650,000 CIO United Steelworkers will ballot tomorrow on whether they wish to strike for a $2-a-day pay boost. The national labor relations board has set up polling places in 766 plants in 27 states for the greatest strike vote in its history.

In Chicago, 16 gravediggers returned to their jobs at St. Casimir's Lithuanian Roman Catholic cemetery, ending a 16-day walkout. Twenty burials had been held up during the contract dispute.

RACHEL PICKEL RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS DUTY

Lt. Rachel Pickel, ANC, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pickel of East Mound street, is home on furlough after returning from overseas service in France.

The unit, with which Lt. Pickel served, the 39th Evacuation Hospital, arrived in England on February 9, 1944, and landed in France at Utah beach, July 18 and was attached to the First Army. On the morning of July 20, while located at St. Mere Eglise, the first patient was received.

In the course of the war, the 39th traveled through France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany. German heavy artillery hit the mess hall of the hospital on one occasion, near Morhange, France, wounding a supply sergeant.

As a member of the unit, Lt. Pickel, won the right to share in the honor bestowed upon it for meritorious service, a coveted distinguished unit citation. She is a graduate of nurse's school at Lancaster hospital.

COLUMBUS MAN CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR POST

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27.—William K. Mackey, of Columbus, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the unexpired term as U. S. senator from Ohio.

The law says that Sen. James W. Huffman's temporary appointment in succession to Harold H. Burton, now a Supreme Court justice, expires Dec. 15, 1946. The regularly elected senator does not begin his term until Jan. 4, 1947, leaving a 20-day period for which a temporary senator must be elected.

Mackey was formerly Columbus relocation officer for the U. S. War Relocation Authority. A Methodist minister, he once held the post of chief probation officer for the state department of welfare.

Divers Search Cold Lake For School Bus, Bodies Of 14 Drowned Children

life was lowered because many parents were driving their children to schools through the snowstorm.

The victims were students in the high school, junior high school and grade schools of nearby Chelan, Wash.

Heroine of the accident was Mrs. Glenna Brown, 37-year-old farm wife, who boarded the bus to keep a dentist appointment in Chelan. She saved several of the children by pushing them through broken windows as the bus rolled over in the lake and sank after floating momentarily.

"I can still hear the helpless cries and screaming of those children," Mrs. Brown said as she lay prostrate from her experience.

Donnie Mack, 13, said that he "nearly fainted" when the bus catapulted down the 15-foot cliff into the water.

"But the cold water brought me to and I headed for the first broken window," he said. "I got out before the water started coming in fast, but when I saw my pal, Ronnie, drown, I wished I was back in there. He can't swim you know and he headed out into the lake instead of into shore."

Divers, operating from a lake barge floated over the spot where the big bus disappeared, thought once that they had located the sunken vehicle at the 65-foot level. But paint and broken glass on a ledge at the 144-foot level led them to believe the bus had dropped even deeper.

The steep sides of the lonely, rock-lined lake are slippery and unfathomable. There is a drop of at least 1,400 feet into the water beyond the ledge where the bus fell out of sight. At some places in the 55-mile-long lake its depth never has been plumbed.

FIERCE BATTLES RAGE AGAIN IN CENTRAL JAVA

BATAVIA, Nov. 27.—Fierce fighting was reported continuing today in central Java where British forces have opened both air and sea attacks on Indonesian extremists.

Hard-pressed Indian troops were reported battling new attacks around Ambarawa where extremists have been besieging 8,000 to 10,000 civilians in an internment camp.

British planes strafed Indonesian positions yesterday and dropped food to the internees.

The Netherlands news agency reported that other RAF planes bombed an Indonesian stronghold in Semarang, 20 miles north, while the British heavy cruiser Sussex shelled the villages of Demok and Uncaran west and south of the port.

The Indonesian national convention in Batavia passed a resolution yesterday blaming the British for the events in Java because "they are trying to make a second Manchuria of Java on behalf of the Dutch."

CHARGES ARE DROPPED IN 'STOLEN' AIRPLANE CASE

The "stolen" airplane case which had Sheriff Charles Radcliff wondering what in the world would happen next Monday has been settled peacefully between the parties concerned.

B. L. Kay of near Clarksburg, formerly of Greenfield, who had charged William Slonaker of Pataskala, with stealing his plane from the Tri County airport, New Holland, has dropped the charges, Sheriff Radcliff reported.

The plane was found at Snook Field, near Reynoldsburg, where it was being held pending payment of a repair bill, the sheriff's office said.

HOUSE GROUP SLASHES FUNDS FOR BUREAUS

NLRB Prohibited From Using Funds To Conduct Strike Voting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—A congressional committee has voted to end the right of labor unions to hold strike elections under the Smith-Connally act.

The action was taken by the house appropriations committee in recommending a $1,131,532,312 deficiency appropriation for federal agencies during the fiscal year ending next June 30—a slash of $576,142,136 from the original budget bureau request.

The committee attached to the appropriation legislation a rider prohibiting the National Labor Relations board from using any of its funds to conduct the strike elections authorized by the Smith-Connally act. The rider, offered by Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, R., Ill., reportedly had the unanimous approval of a deficiency subcommittee.

The full committee noted that the Smith-Connally act was a war measure and said the regular work of the NLRB was suffering because of the huge number of strike elections it had been asked to conduct.

"The war is over insofar as the employment of labor in war production is concerned, and the committee therefore can find no justification for the NLRB being called upon to expend public funds or being held up in its regular work on account of this outdated activity," the report said.

Legislation for outright repeal of the Smith-Connally act has been approved by the house rules committee and is now awaiting house action.

In voting the $576,142,136 slash in the administration's $1,707,694,448 deficiency appropriation requests, the committee called for a "close watch upon execution agencies to check extravagances."

"A spending psychology has grown up in government which must be dissipated," the report said. "As secretary of the Navy Forrestal recently tersely expressed it, we must 'recapture economy'."

The committee rejected the entire budget bureau requests of $158,320,000 for expansion of veterans' hospital facilities, $128,475,000 for flood control and rivers and harbors projects, and $24,500,000 for temporary veterans' housing.

All of these requests should have further study, the committee reported. To take care of the hospital situation it inserted a provision authorizing the veterans' administration to take over Army and Navy hospitals not needed by those services.

In knocking out the flood control and rivers and harbors projects previously recommended by army engineers, the committee said they would be recommended when the regular appropriation bill is brought up in January.

"They may be thoroughly justified, but the committee is reluctant to recommend them without further inquiry into the merits of features not essential to protection against floods," the report said.

The committee also slashed from $99,367,000 to $77,208,100 the amount recommended by the budget bureau for reclamation projects under the interior department.

It recommended without change 11 projects where funds are made available through reclamation revenue, but authorized funds for only seven of 16 proposed projects from general funds.

The committee's largest cut came when it lopped off $191,000,000 for administration of surplus property disposal. It made no appropriation for this purpose, recommending that it be met through the surplus property administration's receipts.

The committee also cut from $50,000,000 to $12,500,000 a budget bureau recommendation for advance planning of public works under the federal works agency. It reported that the $12,500,000 would permit the agency to continue this work at its present rate.

iff's department on a warrant signed by the child's father, next door neighbor of Shaffer. The alleged attack was said to have happened after Shaffer brought his children and the Conrad child home from a show in his truck.

Prosecutor Kenneth Robbins said Shaffer first denied he had gone after the children, then later said, "They might have been with me. I don't know."

At the preliminary hearing the prosecutor asked Shaffer if the child hurt herself on one of the operating levers of the truck, as Shaffer's relatives had stated.

"I don't know," Shaffer said.

Shaffer stated, "I've never laid my hands on that baby. I got babies of my own. I'm too old for a thing like that. I plead not guilty of tetching that kid."

Mr. Robbins instructed the sheriff's department, "This man is being held for investigation. Nobody is to see him, except his lawyer."

Shaffer asked if he couldn't see his family and the prosecutor said that he could if a law official were present.

HUMMEL WANTS SERVICEMEN TO GET TO VOTE

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27.—Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel today had urged a change in election laws to insure discharged veterans the right to vote in next year's primary and general elections.

The action was recommended by Hummel in a letter to Gov. Frank J. Lausche which requested the governor to include the election law revision in his call for a special session of the legislature expected shortly after the beginning of 1946.

Governor Lausche said today that he would give the matter "due consideration."

"We ought to make it possible for all returning soldiers to vote," Lausche said. "I do not believe a special session should be called for that purpose alone, but if a special session is called due consideration should be given that problem."

Hummel said the present law bars civilians from registering less than 28 days in advance of an election and it would be impossible for a veteran to vote if he were discharged within a period of 28 days before the elections.

The secretary of state told the governor that the state of New York remedied a similar situation by enacting legislation permitting a discharged soldier to register at any time up until noon of an election day.

New York State consumes about one-third of the anthracite produced in Pennsylvania.

French, Russian and American medical reports show "complete accord" about Hess. It was understood, while the British disagree slightly on minor points.

The tribunal is expected to order Hess to submit to a narcotic treatment used in neuropsychiatric cases, combined with shock treatment. Experts believe his nervous amnesia condition can be cured in 15 to 30 days.

It was understood that Vishinsky came to Nurnberg to help solve any political difficulties that might arise and to advise the Russian prosecutor and Russian judge, Gen. Roman A. Rudenko and Maj. Gen. Johann T. Nikitchenko.

Police Chief Dudley Lester said Pierce apparently had shot the other children and then the baby. His own body lay across Emily's and Janette's.

In addition, an undisclosed amount of military petroleum stores was turned over to the Japanese to get their transportation and fishing fleets back into operation.

The cost of these items has been debited against Japan by the U. S. treasury and will be paid for later in Japanese exports.

In return, Japan has been directed to ship 70,000 tons of coal to the American held southern half of Korea, since there has been no indication that the Russians are permitting transfer of coal from their occupation zone.

The Japanese also will ship 3,000 tons of pitch to Korea for railroad use and a substantial number of silkworm eggs to help re-establish the silk industry there.

Australia also has asked for 7,000 bales of Japanese silk for 1946 delivery, and China and Hong Kong have entered orders for coal and timber.

Col. R. C. Kramer, chief of MacArthur's economic and scientific section, said he believed Japan already had enough food on hand to keep her entire population alive for the next 12 months. But he said that the nation's distribution system was so badly disrupted that starvation in some areas was a distinct possibility this winter.

Grew vigorously defended the 10-point proposal which Hull handed Japan Nov. 26 instead of the proposed modus vivendi.

"Honey, I've got the best retirement plan on earth!"

"THIS new Army Retirement Plan doesn't cost me a penny, and yet I can retire after 20 years of service with a good monthly income as long as I live. And remember—I'll still be under 40!"

"Why, if I wanted to PAY for a plan that would give me the same retirement income that I will get as a Master Sergeant, it would take just about $84 out of my pay envelope every month."

"And think what it will mean to us. We'll be able to do the things most people can never afford to do. Travel. Go places. Do things. But most important, we'll have financial security."

"In the meantime, I'll have a good job in the Army that will pay me well. I'll be getting fine training in a good trade. You'll get a family allowance, too.

"Not a bad proposition, is it, honey? Aren't you glad you're the wife of an Army man?"

The ability to retire at half pay at any time after 20 years of service, and on up to three-quarters pay after 30 years, is only one of many important privileges offered in the new Armed Forces Recruitment Act of 1945. Read all the highlights of this new Act. Find out why thousands of men are enlisting in Uncle Sam's new peacetime Regular Army. Better still, stop at your nearest Army Recruiting Station and get the whole story.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE NEW ENLISTMENT ACT

1. Enlistments for 1 1/2, 2 or 3 years. (One-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with at least 6 months' service.)

2. Enlistment age from 17 to 34 years inclusive, except for men now in the Army, who may reenlist at any age, and for former service men, depending on length of service.

3. Men reenlisting retain their present grades, if they reenlist within 20 days after discharge and before Feb. 1, 1946.

4. The best pay scale, medical care, food, quarters and clothing in the history of our Army.

5. An increase in the reenlistment bonus to $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service.

6. Up to 90 days' paid furlough, depending on length of service, with furlough travel paid to home and return, for men now in the Army who reenlist.

7. A 30-day furlough every year at full pay.

8. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to reenlist.

9. Option to retire at half pay for life after 20 years' service—or three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.

10. Benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.

11. Family allowances for the term of enlistment for dependents of men who enlist or reenlist before July 1, 1946.

12. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater in the Air, Ground or Service Forces on 3-year enlistments.

13. Privilege of benefits of National Service Life Insurance.

AS WAR WINDS BLOW

THOUGHTFUL Americans have been in a more sober mood since Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the army's acting chief of staff, spoke to the American Legion at Chicago on Nov. 20. What most listeners near and far had probably expected to be a paean of joy and thanksgiving over the end of the war turned out to be a sober view of a somewhat doubtful future. The speaker had announced that it would be the most important utterance of his career, and this, in brief, is what he said.

He emphasized the "priceless battlefield value of military training." He asked for a strong and integrated America, and said that such integration was especially essential in our armed forces.

He demanded that our people think "in terms of coordinated action all the way from top to bottom."

He warned against a soft peace that could make us the victims of predatory force, and pointed out that "to be strong is not a sin, but a necessity for a bold and free people." And he declared that "it is only by a backing of material strength that we can enable our leaders and spokesmen to perfect machinery by which we and the rest of the world may settle our difficulties legally and peaceably, rather than illegally and by force."

Surely upon this basis all intelligent and courageous Americans can stand.

POLITICAL ILLITERATES

INFORMATION about the processes of politics is probably actually higher among those who did not receive higher education than it is among those who have received higher education and think themselves intelligent and all-knowing.

This startling conclusion comes from a man of the highest education himself, who has had plenty of opportunity to learn about practical politics—Charles Edison, son of the inventor, former secretary of the navy under President Roosevelt and governor of New Jersey.

He supports his conclusion by pointing out that it is from the less than average educated people that the precinct, ward, city and county leaders arise. "They may think that Marcel Proust was the man who invented a way of waving hair, and that anthropology is the study of ants. But they know how the wheels of politics go, and they know who makes them go."

Too many prominent citizens are political illiterates. Until they make good this defect and get more first-hand information about the running of politics, it makes no difference how high the voltage of their brainpower.

It seems now that future wars will be won by the scientists.

With racial troubles abroad and economic troubles at home, ain't peace wonderful?

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—Intelligent thinking people are asking themselves (and me) why these strikes develop, ebb and flow, so systematically through the country.

They cannot see why in a time of world crisis when the necessity is great for the nation to succeed with her reconversion and production, there should be any strikes at all. The muddled announcements and talk about fears of inflation, unemployment and all such surface indications, leaves them hopelessly confused. They want to know the answer.

The first point glaringly evident behind the situation is that labor is a completely controlled entity, a centrally managed, thoroughly disciplined, wholly directed group in national life.

It is set up like an army with a general headquarters, boards of strategy, publicity departments, field officers, organizers like recruiting officers, and the union man himself is like a private in the ranks. He has no more rights than an army private.

In view of this condition, it is necessary to look beyond the claims made for individual strikes in any research for an answer as to why they occur, the Washington bus and railway strike, for instance, which finally, and because of recurrence, caused the government to seize the lines, involved an old case, unsettled for many months.

There would seem to be no reason why the strike was called first the day the national labor management conference assembled here to discuss and arrange a conclusive peace-pact.

What I specifically mean is no necessity arose at that particular time involving any of the factors of the case to warrant a walk-out. No government agency had denied anything just the day before, or anything like that.

The case of the CIO auto workers involved their many months old demand for a thirty percent wage increase. Long range, indirect negotiations had strained and broken many times, but singularly enough, this strike call developed also the day the labor-management conference reached its deadlock.

The orders were issued within a few hours after the deadlock became apparent within the conference and before any announcement was permitted to leak to the public press, (it was published two days later.)

New talk and threats of the telephone strike in various sections started about the same time, developing along the same lines.

These facts, I think, are further evidence of what I have suggested before, namely, that labor has developed new tactics. Up to this postwar series of strikes, labor management was largely an uncentralized operation. It functioned in a democratic way in what might be called a democratic process.

On the one hand the AFL and on the other the CIO, and in their functions they could be likened to the democratic and republican parties in the management of the nation, one a majority, the other a minority.

Following the analogy through completely, the other independent union could be likened to the minority parties which have only a few scattered votes, in theory one acted as a bulwark against the other, a restraint to keep it on the right path, it never functioned in a totalitarian way or under centralized control, or at least its

A Type of Nerve Irritation Causing Severe Facial Pain

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IRRITATION of nerves usually leads to pain. There is one type of nerve irritation which causes severe pain in the face. The condition is known as tic douloureux but the exact cause of the disorder is not known.

However, Doctor Richard C. Karl and his co-workers of New York think that when the attacks occur, there is a lessening of the blood supply to the nerve in the face known as the trigeminal nerve. Doctor Karl thinks that this decrease in the blood supply is due to a constricting or narrowing of the blood vessels which supply the nerve with blood.

Treating the Disorder

Hence, in treating the disorder, he concluded that the use of some substance which would dilate the blood vessels might be of value.

Doctor Karl carried out his study on seven patients. These patients found that chewing, talking, swallowing, shaving or drinking always produced the painful attacks in the face. He found that the pain could be produced also by stimulating certain areas in the face.

In order to determine if the substances he used were of value, he would first produce the attacks of pain by stimulating these areas in the face. Then the various drugs were administered. He employed histamine, amyl nitrite, 10 per cent carbon dioxide, or nicotine acid.

Pain Diminished

Doctor Karl found that the pain was diminished or eliminated in every patient by at least one of these substances. In most of the patients, the drugs modified the attacks during and immediately after they were administered.

The longest lasting results were obtained with nicotine acid and amyl nitrite.

Pain could not be produced for thirty to sixty minutes after the nicotine acid had been given. In all but one instance, the pain was eliminated completely by giving the nicotine acid every four hours for two weeks. However, mild attacks seemed to occur when the patients were startled or worried.

Burning or Aching

Burning or aching sensations in the face were noted during the first two to six days of treatment with nicotine acid. It was found, however, that stopping the nicotine acid permitted the condition to recur.

While this method of treatment would not seem to produce a permanent cure, it does appear to be quite beneficial in at least temporarily relieving the symptoms, and thus is well worth trying.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE
SERGEANT JONES adroitly got rid of Neville through the hall and dining room and then brought Kay in by the French window so that husband and wife did not meet.

"He'll see all the others, though," Leach remarked.

"All the better," said Battle. "It's only this one I want to deal with while she's still in the dark."

The day was overcast with a sharp wind. Kay was dressed in a tweed skirt and a purple sweater above which her hair looked like a burnished copper bowl. She looked half frightened, half excited. Her beauty and vitality bloomed against the dark Victorian background of books and saddleback chairs.

Leach led her easily enough over her account of the previous evening.

She had had a headache and had gone to bed early—about quarter past nine, she thought. She had slept heavily and heard nothing until the next morning, when she was awakened by hearing someone screaming.

Battle took up the questioning. "Your husband didn't come in to see how you were before he went off for the evening?"

"No."

"You didn't see him from the time you left the drawing room until the following morning. Is that right?"

Kay nodded.

Battle stroked his jaw.

"Mrs. Strange, the door between your room and that of your husband was locked. Who locked it?"

Kay said shortly: "I did."

Battle said nothing—but he waited—waited like an elderly, fatherly cat—for a mouse to come out of the hole he was watching.

His silence did what questions might not have accomplished. Kay burst out impetuously:

"Oh, I suppose you've got to have it all! That old doddering Hurstall must have heard us before tea and he'll tell you if I don't. He's probably told you already. Neville and I had had a row—a flaming row! I was furious with him! I went up to bed and locked the door because I was still in a flaming rage with him!"

"I see—I see," said Battle at his most sympathetic. "And what was the trouble all about?"

"Does it matter? Oh, I don't mind telling you. Neville has been behaving like a perfect idiot. It's all that woman's fault, though."

"What woman?"

"His first wife. She got him to come here in the first place."

"You mean—to meet you?"

"Yes, Neville thinks it was all his own idea—poor innocent! But it wasn't. He never thought of such a thing until he met her in the park one day and she got the idea into his head and made him believe he'd thought of it himself. He quite honestly thinks it was his idea, but I've seen Audrey's fine Italian hand behind it from the first."

"Why should she do such a thing?" asked Battle.

"Because she wanted to get hold of him again," said Kay. She spoke quickly and her breath came fast. "She's never forgiven him for going off with me. This is her revenge. She got him to fix up that we'd all be here together and then she got to work on him. She's been doing it ever since we arrived. She's clever, you know. Knows just how to look pathetic and elusive—yes, and how to play up another man, too. She got Thomas Royde, a faithful old dog who's always adored her, to be here at the same time, and she drove Neville mad by pretending she was going to marry him."

She stopped, breathing angrily.

Battle said mildly:

"I should have thought he'd be glad for her to—er—find happiness with an old friend."

"Glad! He's as jealous as Hades!"

"Then he must be very fond of her."

"Oh, he is," said Kay bitterly.

"She's seen to that!"

Battle's finger still ran dubiously over his jaw.

"You might have objected to this arrangement of coming here," he suggested.

"How could I? It would have looked as though I were jealous!"

"Well," said Battle, "after all, you were, weren't you?"

Kay flushed.

"Always! I've always been jealous of Audrey. Right from the beginning—or nearly the beginning. I used to feel her there in the house. It was as though it were her house, not mine. I changed the color scheme and did it all up, but it was no good. I'd feel her there like a ghost creeping about. I knew Neville worried because he thought he'd treated her badly. He couldn't forget about her—she was always there—a reproachful feeling at the back of his mind. There are people, you know, who are like that. They seem rather colorless and not very interesting—but they make themselves felt."

Battle nodded thoughtfully. He said:

"Well, thank you, Mrs. Strange. That's all at present. We have to ask—er—a good many questions—especially with your husband inheriting so much money from Lady Tressilian—fifty thousand pounds."

"Is it as much as that? We get it from old Sir Matthew's will, don't we?"

"You know all about it?"

"Oh, yes. He left it to be divided between Neville and Neville's wife. Not that I'm glad the old thing is dead. I'm not. I didn't like her very much—probably because she didn't like me—but it's too horrible to think of some burglar coming along and cracking her head open."

She went out on that. Battle looked at Leach.

"What do you think of her? Good looking bit of goods. I will say. A man could lose his head over her easy enough."

Leach agreed.

"Doesn't seem to me quite a lady, though," he said dubiously.

"They aren't nowadays," said Battle. "Shall we see No. 1? No, 1"

"No, but his wife is."

"Kay? Yes, perhaps—but, oh, it's too ridiculous. I'm sure the last thing Neville has been thinking of lately is money."

SEE IT AS HE DOES

THERE IS no point in upbraiding your partner for a defensive play which you could see later on was a losing play. Remember, he has to act according to the facts which are in sight to him. He knows some things which you do not, and you by the same token know some facts which he does not. Often he can make the most expert, sound play in his position, and have it turn out disastrously—the identically same play which you would have made if you sat where he did and saw only what he saw.

West led his spade 3, which East could easily read as probably from a four-card suit. South was marked with only two spades, undoubtedly including the A, since he was the first to bid No Trumps. It was therefore quite clear that West could have nothing higher than the J at the top of his spade suit. Reckoning thus, East saw that playing the Q would merely get it bumped off by the A, leaving the declarer a cinch finesse of the K-10 over West's J. Playing the Q therefore would enable South to get three spade tricks. Putting in the 9, however, would limit South to two tricks in spades if West had the J. East would retain his Q to knock off the 10. So he played the 9, and then both he and West were chagrined to see South take the trick with the J.

South then led the club Q which was covered by the K and A. The diamond Q was sent through to the K. West scored the spade A, then led the 7 to the K. Declarer then ran four tricks in diamonds, three clubs and the heart A to score two extra tricks.

If East had played his Q on the original spade lead and returned the 9 to the A, the K would have been knocked out next and then, when West won with his diamond K, he could have scored also the set-up 13th spade. He pointed that out to East, but subsided when his partner explained why the 9 looked like a better play than the Q.

See Navy in Finish Fight Over Armed Forces Merger Johnson Willing to Accept Atom Control Bill Changes

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The capital is the center of another inter-departmental scuffle—this time between Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and Secretary of War Robert Patterson on the highly-explosive proposal to unify the armed forces under a single cabinet head.

Forrestal touched off the opening round of the blistering row by writing a scathing letter to Patterson denouncing famed Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle's testimony before the Senate military affairs committee as "acrimonious."

Doolittle, air hero who led the first sky attack on Tokyo, called for unification. He blamed the mistakes of World War II on divergent command practices. He made it clear that the Army and the Navy are arguing sharply on the lion's share of the credit for the victory over Japan.

Forrestal's protest drew a cool reply from Patterson, who backed Doolittle to the hilt. The war secretary refused to accede to the Navy secretary's plea to get unification debate "on a higher level" than the "forum" before the Senate committee.

In a roundabout way, Patterson rebuked Forrestal for the latter suggestion, saying he knew of no better place for the subject to be aired.

Who will win out in the unification battle is still in doubt. However, it is evident that the Navy, or at least some high-ranking officers and officials, will fight to the last ditch against a merger of any sort with the Army.

Many Navy men fear their service would be buried under the control of Army officials, thus losing its identity as a fighting arm of the United States, but the general opinion in Washington is that the Navy is fighting a losing battle.

REGARDLESS OF THE COMMUNIQUE which President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee and Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King issued on the discussions on atomic bomb control, Congress has its work to do in this vital field.

Senator Johnson (D) of Colorado, is ready to accept a lot of re-vamping of the May-Johnson bill for national atomic control.

The Colorado senator, a stickler for Congressional control of everything that the constitution vested with the Senate and the House, is embarrassed over charges hurled by some critics that the bill bearing his name would set up a potentially "Fascist" commission.

To newsmen, Johnson is emphasizing that he did not write the bill—that it was placed in his hands by the war department and, as acting chairman of the military affairs committee, he merely dropped it in the Senate hopper.

"I never intended it to be the last word of Congress on how to control atomic energy," Johnson said.

Johnson added that he would go along on any restrictions which seem necessary to prevent the commission from becoming an all-powerful body, directly responsible to no official.

Specifically, Johnson wants to make the first control commission only a temporary body, with less than two years of life which will give Congress a new chance at appraising things in the light of developments.

Further international controls should be shaping up by that time, and what direction they will take will dictate what is needed nationally, Johnson believes.

The senator said also that he wants the bill rewritten to make it definite that the commission is to be under the supervision and control of Congress—its status as "an arm of Congress."

Thus it would be in the same category as the Interstate Commerce commission and the Federal Power commission.

Richard Lee (Dickie) Gerhardt, was four years old Monday so he had a birthday party at his home on East Mound street. Dickie wants his friends to know that he is no "sissy" and his party was a real he-man affair.

His mother, Mrs. George Gerhardt, planned the party and helped him write the invitations to his friends. He liked the presents that his friends brought to him and he thanked them too. He also liked the refreshments that went with the party.

There was the biggest angel food cake in the center of the table that he had ever seen. Of course if there had not been quite so many friends they would have had larger pieces but after all there has to be some excuse for getting such a large cake. If it had just been a family party with his brother "Dutch" and Mom and Pop the big cake would not have been.

And the ice cream had turkeys in it. And was it good? That was plenty too, even the girls liked that. Then after you ate all of that there were candy bars and paper caps and real big red balloons, of course there were other colors too for the balloons but you know Dickie particularly likes the red ones.

The games that were played were kind 'a rough for the girls but none of them cried so it was alright.

Of course there were some women there too, they helped his mom, there was grandma, Mrs. U. L. Riegel, Carol and Bobby Peters' mother, Mrs. Everett Peters and David Griner's mother too, Mrs. Ned Griner.

If it had just been a family party with his brother "Dutch" and Mom and Pop the big cake would not have been.

And the ice cream had turkeys in it. And was it good? That was plenty too, even the girls liked that. Then after you ate all of that there were candy bars and paper caps and real big red balloons, of course there were other colors too for the balloons but you know Dickie particularly likes the red ones.

The games that were played were kind 'a rough for the girls but none of them cried so it was alright.

Boy, it was an occasion and the kids who were there were all good kids too, there were his cousins Carol and Bobby Peters from Lockbourne, Frances Goeller, Kay Goeller, Sally Montgomery, Linda Leist, Roberta Thomas, Judy Barnhill, Bobby Tanner, David Griner, Robert McCrady, Richard Mason, Ruth Backus and "Dutch" and himself.

Of course there were some women there too, they helped his mom, there was grandma, Mrs. U. L. Riegel, Carol and Bobby Peters' mother, Mrs. Everett Peters and David Griner's mother too, Mrs. Ned Griner.

Cpl. Dwight Casto And Parisian Wed

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Monique E. Pynnaert and Cpl. Dwight F. Casto son of P. H. Casto and the late Mrs. Casto of near Clarkburg.

actions never before showed symptoms of such a system.

This time the old conservative AFL street workers acted simultaneously with the great CIO body of auto workers. I do not charge collusion.

To try to dig inside that situation to find the proof, would be as tedious as pursuing an electrically magnetized needle through all the nation's haystacks. But the results came out that way as everyone can see.

I must therefore conclude that the strikes were called against the conference, therefore against Mr. Truman and against the government. They were simply manifestations of organized labor pressure. This is my answer.

No other conclusion seems possible from logical analysis, particularly since they were called immediately after management came forward with a program to make labor responsible for its actions. The program took up many suggestions you have seen published in this column, including proposals for legislation establishing the principle of union responsibility, including abandonment of its immunity under the anti-trust laws.

These are the symptoms behind the situation as I see it and the explanation of why the strikes have so systematically developed.

OSU FINISHES IN 10TH PLACE

Ratings Show Little Change With Army, Navy Still At Top Of List

By TEX TAYLOR

Little change except a drop by Ohio State from eighth to tenth and a rise from fourth to third of Oklahoma A. & M. can be noted at the top of the ratings this week. Ohio State, even in losing, showed enough strength to retain its place among the top ten teams, but can no longer be rated above Tulsa and Texas which have played consistently good ball all season, while State was having its ups and downs.

The A. & M. Cowboys' 46-0 slaughter of a strong Oklahoma team convinced us finally that they have at least the third best team in the nation and will triumph easily over St. Mary's in the Sugar Bowl. In first place, we have kept Army, but are not entirely sure that Army would be invincible against Alabama, our second-place team or the Cowboys. Alabama, incidentally, will slaughter its Rose Bowl opposition which will be Southern California, if the Trojans beat UCLA and Washington State if they don't. From this corner, it looks like the Trojans will provide the opposition.

Indiana in fourth place, after its convincing 26-0 verdict over Purdue, deserved all the credit they can be given. Now that the season is over, it seems that everyone should extend a warm hand of congratulation to the Hoosiers for winning their first Big Ten title. We won't choose our all-American team until later, but George Talferro seems assured top billing.

In the next six places in order after the Big Four, are Navy, Notre Dame, Michigan, Texas, Tulsa and Ohio State. Of the six, Texas and Tulsa are the only two teams that have been consistently good. Texas which won 8 games, as many as any team in the nation, while dropping an upset loss to Rice 7-6, can no longer be denied top ranking. The Longhorns beat T. C. U. 20-0 Saturday before last and last Saturday, T. C. U. clipped Rice, 14-13. The Christiana really did a favor for the Dana X Bible-coached Steers in whipping Rice. If Rice had won they would have been sure to have gained at least a tie for the Southwest crown with Texas. As it is Texas has only one hurdle left for undisputed possession of the crown and that hurdle, the toughest of the season, is Texas A. & M. which the Bible men will meet Thursday.

Our predictions continue to be highly-accurate providing advance information on who will win and by what score in the major games of the week. Watch for them in Wednesday's paper. Without further comment, here are the national ratings for the week:

FIRST TEN: Army, Alabama, Oklahoma A. & M., Indiana, Navy, Notre Dame, Michigan, Texas, Tulsa and Ohio State.

SECOND TEN—Penn. Tennessee, L. S. U., Duke, Southern California, Georgia Tech, Georgia, Miami (Fla.), Purdue and Clemson.

THIRD TEN—Columbia, Northwestern, St. Mary's, T. C. U., Rice, Texas A. & M., Mississippi State, Wisconsin, UCLA and Washington State.

FOURTH TEN — Texas Tech, New Mexico, Illinois, Michigan State, Missouri, S. M. U., Pitt, Penn State, Temple, and Holy Cross.

FIFTH TEN — Oregon State, Baylor, Arkansas, California, Virginia, William and Mary, Oberlin, Wake Forest, North Carolina and V. M. I.

SIXTH TEN — Maryland, Iowa, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Nebraska, South Carolina, Tulane, Mississippi, Ohio U., and Marquette.

SEVENTH TEN — Utah, Kentucky, West Virginia, Cornell, Princeton, Yale, Brown, Colgate, Harvard, and Capital.

EIGHTH TEN — Dartmouth, Vanderbilt, V. P. I., Florida, Otterbein, Iowa State, Kansas, Detroit, Drake and Cincinnati.

NEWS Behind the NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

actions never before showed symptoms of such a system.

This time the old conservative AFL street workers acted simultaneously with the great CIO body of auto workers. I do not charge collusion.

To try to dig inside that situation to find the proof, would be as tedious as pursuing an electrically magnetized needle through all the nation's haystacks. But the results came out that way as everyone can see.

I must therefore conclude that the strikes were called against the conference, therefore against Mr. Truman and against the government. They were simply manifestations of organized labor pressure. This is my answer.

No other conclusion seems possible from logical analysis, particularly since they were called immediately after management came forward with a program to make labor responsible for its actions.

The program took up many suggestions you have seen published in this column, including proposals for legislation establishing the principle of union responsibility, including abandonment of its immunity under the anti-trust laws.

China Wants Bulletins

BUFFALO (U.P.)—Chiang Fu-tung, director of the National Central Library in Chungking, China, has requested Grosvenor Library to resume mailings of Buffalo library bulletins to the Chinese institutions. Delivery of the bulletin to Chungking was stopped when Japan blockaded the Burma Road during the war.

the right to sue and be sued, and equal responsibility under the national labor relations act.

The proposals did not involve any settlement of the wage controversy or other elements involved in a particular strike discussion, but merely laid down the program of union responsibility.

Now, if all these facts are true, as I have said, the ultimate crisis has arrived in this matter. On the one hand you have evidence of union centralization of controls on a national scale, but at the same time a union refusal to accept any legal responsibility for exercising those controls.

This then, is the time the government and the country must decide where they are going. If the position of the unions is maintained, the economy and the politics of the nation will be exercised by them. If no settlement is reached, their controls can continue to be maintained. The decision cannot be delayed one way or another.

These are the symptoms behind the situation as I see it and the explanation of why the strikes have so systematically developed.

Pickaway County Planning $68,000 Road and Bridge Program

COUNTY'S COST OF PROJECT TO BE ONLY $9,000

Federal And State Funds Pay Large Part Of Three Bridges

A $68,000 road and bridge improvement program in Pickaway county during the next two years at a cost of only $9,000 to the county is now being planned.

Preparatory steps toward replacing three bridges and improving three miles of roads have been taken by the county commissioners and the county engineering department.

The projects have been made possible through state and federal aid. The federal highway act of 1944 provided that Pickaway county will receive $17,390.50 in federal funds for road work during each of the first three years after the national emergency ends. Congress has now freed these funds and the first two years' total, more than $34,000, will be paid to the county soon.

To help match the federal funds the state legislature granted money to each county. Pickaway county's share of the state money amounts to $25,000, of which $12,500 has been paid.

New bridges are planned in Wayne and Perry townships and road paving in Darby township. Henry McCrady, county engineer, told members of the Kiwanis Club Monday evening.

Mr. McCrady outlined the work of his department during his talk. He stated that within Pickaway county there were 188 miles of state highways, 233 miles of county roads and 391 miles of township roads.

He explained that actual road work was financed by gas and auto tax funds received from the state. This law has been amended now to permit salaries of some workers to be paid from these funds.

Some of the work done by the engineering department outside of actual maintenance of highways includes keeping tax maps up to date, preparing road maps, drawing plans and specifications for road work.

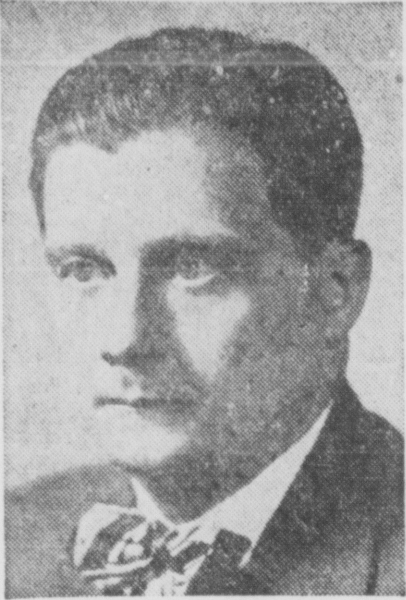

He said that bridges in the county are maintained by the county. There are 146 structures of over 20-foot span and 2243 smaller structures, including culverts and pipes.

Mr. McCrady was introduced by Roscoe Warren, program chairman.

C.O. Leist was introduced as a new member of the club. Paul Rodenfels was a guest.
